

PRESENTED BY THE TALL TALE GUY, BRIAN EASTMAN

Tall-Tales, Rib-Ticklers & Leg-Pullers

TALL STORIES MIXED WITH MIME, GEOGRAPHY,
AMERICAN HISTORY AND STUDENT PARTICIPATION!

"THE MOSQUITO WAS REALLY THIS BIG!"

Let the Tall-Tale Guy, Brian Eastman, sweep you along (in the safety of your imagination) to strange new worlds of wacky adventure and humour during this 45-minute assembly for K-3, K-6, 4-6, 7-12.

- Laugh at how a horde of turkey-sized mosquitoes at a picnic caused the invention of baseball.
- Discover the unique Rubber Snake of Ceylon, and the men who use them as suspenders.
- Hear about the Summer it got so hot that farmers had to feed their chickens cracked ice, just so the chickens wouldn't lay hard-boiled eggs!

"THE STORY SELECTIONS WERE AGE-
APPROPRIATE AND VERY NICELY PRESENTED.
THE VARIETY KEPT STUDENTS' INTEREST."
-NEW RICHMOND, OHIO

You may also find yourself enjoying:

- The pet wildcat-kitten and her strange meals
- The sailor with the wooden leg, hook hand and eye-patch . . . his name was "Lucky".
- How a little kid first learns to walk. (Mime)
- A Winter so cold your words came out in ice-cubes.
- The Summer it was so dry that trees taught themselves to whistle for dogs!
